

E-FILED: July 30, 2012

NOT FOR CITATION

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT

FOR THE NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

SAN JOSE DIVISION

MARY BASICH,

No. C11-04406 EJD (HRL)

Plaintiff,

ORDER RE DISCOVERY DISPUTE
JOINT REPORT #11

v.

[Re: Docket No. 108]

PATENAUDE & FELIX, APC and CAPITAL
ONE BANK, (USA), N.A.; DOES 1-10, inclusive,

Defendants.

Plaintiff Mary Basich sues for alleged violations of the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1692, et seq., the Fair Credit Reporting Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1681, et seq., and the California Rosenthal Fair Debt Collection Practices Act, Cal. Civ. Code § 1788, et seq. She claims that defendants improperly attempted to collect a debt from her with respect to a Capital One credit card and invaded her privacy by obtaining her credit report without her permission. Plaintiff says that this is a case of mistaken identity and that she is not the debtor. Reportedly, the debt is owed by one Mary Ryals, who used the alias “Mary Basich.”

In Discovery Dispute Joint Report (DDJR) #11,¹ plaintiff Mary Basich seeks an order compelling defendants to produce documents that she says have been improperly withheld on the basis of the attorney-client privilege, the attorney work product doctrine, relevance objections, privacy objections, and trade secret assertions.

¹ Plaintiff’s papers erroneously identify this report as DDJR #10.

1 The term "Joint Report" is a misnomer here because, contrary to this court's Standing
2 Order re Civil Discovery Disputes, the parties have submitted separate reports. Finger pointing
3 then ensued. Plaintiff claims that defendants stalled and did not provide their input in time for 4 the submission of a joint report. In their separate submission, defendants contend that plaintiff
5 failed to complete meet-and-confer negotiations and proceeded to file a DDJR without giving
6 them sufficient time to review their privilege logs or to participate in the preparation of joint
7 report. Additionally, defendants advise that they have been reviewing their withheld
8 documents. So far, they have determined that at least 14 additional documents should be
9 produced or unredacted. This court is told that those documents (not specified for the court)
10 were produced on July 3. Further, defendants advise that Capital One recently decided to waive 11 the attorney-client privilege as to this account. And, in view of that waiver, defendants have 12 served another privilege log. Noting that their client contact was on vacation, defendants also 13 say that they have been unable to address the trade secret issues raised by plaintiff's DDJR.

14 In sum, DDJR #11 is a mess and yet another example of discovery disputes run amuck.
15 On the record presented, the scope of the current dispute is unclear.

16 DDJR #11 is denied. This court is informed that Judge Davila has been presented with 17 requests to modify the current case schedule. Accordingly, the denial re DDJR #11 is without 18 prejudice, but this ruling is subject to whatever scheduling decisions Judge Davila may make.
19 To the extent the matters presented by DDJR #11 are renewed, the parties are advised that this
20 court will not look favorably upon any future DDJR that fails to comply with the undersigned's
21 standing order.

22 SO ORDERED.
